For portfolio construction the key recommended changes are:

- Inverted Alternatives trend through the risk profiles to be higher for 'Income' and lower for 'Growth'.
- Increasing the bias to Australian Shares relative to International Shares.

Rationale for change

The Growth/Defensive designation for Alternatives was changed from 100% Growth allocation to 50% Growth/ 50% Defensive allocation in line with APRA's 'Your Future, Your Super' regulatory reforms.

A higher weighting to Alternatives was favoured in the lower risk profiles and less favoured in the higher risk profiles. This reflects the diminished protective qualities of Fixed Income and the need to take greater risk to achieve the return objectives of the portfolios, respectively.

Increased Australian Shares biased relative to International Shares given our forecasts indicate higher returns for Australian Shares and broadly similar volatility.

The changes are applicable to all portfolios listed above and will be effective as of 1 April 2022.
